JOINT DEBATES ON TEMPERANCE.

A new plan of discussing the temperance question has been inaugurated by two prominent temperance workers. In February last Mr. Walter Thomas Mills, editor of the Statesman, an ardent and active sympathizer with prohibition, submitted a proposition to Mr. Albert Griffin, chairman of the Anti-saloon republican national committee, for a series of joint debates, one hundred in number. Mr. Mills in these debates proposed to argue the necessity of a third party, while Mr. Griffin was to maintain the sufficiency of the republican party to deal with the questions the prohibitionists seem to think it is their exclusive right to settle. Mr. Griffin could not refuse this challenge without seeming to cast the impression that he could not maintain his cause against Mr. Mills, and therefore he thought best to accept.

So far these joint debates have taken place in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Indiana, but they seem to attract little attention and the telegraph has sent away little news in regard to them. It is said that the meetings being held under the auspices of the third party, "the republicans have been skeptical of their genuineness," and for that reason Mr. Griffin has not had the moral support from his party, the prohibitionists turning out en masse and the republicans staying away. The Inter Ocean makes the suggestion that "as the prohibition papers are rather inclined to discourage the discussion is pretty conclusive evidence that republican interests are not suffering at Mr. Griffin's hands. It is intimated that the managers of the prohibition national committee have expressed disapproval of the debates, and were not Mr. Mills one of the fairest of the prohibition orators, a man of courageous persistence it is possible the plan inaugurated would be summarily abandoned.

As a matter of fact, these joint debates will do but little good in molding opinion on the question of how to abolish the saloon. There is no difference of opinion among temperance people as to the harm the saloon is doing in society and politics, but there are important differences in the methods of the two wings of the temperance army as to how the evil shall be abated. One thing seems certain—that the time will not come in this generation or the next, when a national enactment shall abolish the saloon. To the Gazette this appears as certain as the impossibility of bridging the sea. As the third party wants prohibition or nothing, and the more reasonable and practical wing of the temperance party wants the best that can be secured, whether it be prohibition, local option, or high license, there will be a division which will be fatal to radical and important temperance reform.

SOME FREE TRADE MISREPRESENTATIONS.

The other day the Chicago Tribune printed this editorial item:

With the present duty of a cent a pound on tin-plate the consumption of tinware in the United States this year will be $85,970,000. The McKinley bill proposes to raise the duty to 2.15 cents a pound. That will add over $12,895,000 to the burdens of the American consumer.

One of the methods the free trade papers employ to prejudice the people against protective duties is gross misrepresentation. They won't be fair. They won't tell the truth. They won't print intelligent interpretations of the tariff bill reported by the ways and means committee. Their purpose is to libel protection and deceive the people.

The Chicago Herald, another free trade paper, printed a cartoon recently, under which was the superscription, "Closed. No profit on account of the high duty on tin." The cartoon illustrated, as the superscription showed, a class of factories closed up because the tariff on tin was protective.

It is always wise in discussing public questions to be honest, to show to what extent a duty will effect the price or the production of the article protected. The tariff man of the Inter Ocean writes a little article on the Herald cartoon, which is likewise a good answer to the Tribune:

The cost of four ounces of tin plate is less than 1 cent; but let us call it 1 cent.

So that half the cost of a one-pound can of tomatoes is 1½ cents—really less than this. This half is the cost of the can itself.

Cost of the can which holds one pound of tomatoes, oysters, fish or meat less than 1½ cents. Present rate of duty on tin plate 1¼ cents per pound. Proposed "higher duty on tin" plate, which is to cause "American canning establishments" to be "closed on account of no profit," 1 cent per pound more than now is levied; so that the half cost of a pound can of tomatoes or oysters would be 1¾ cents instead of 1½.

The other half of the cost, that of the fruit or vegetables in the can, would not be increased by the "higher duty on tin" plates; so that the cost would stand under the McKinley bill.

Cost of can	1¾ cents.
Cost of contents	1½ cents.
Total cost	3¼ cents.

But the lowest price ever charged at retail for a pound can is 12½ cents; allow the retailer 6½ cents profit, which probably is far in excess of the truth, and the "American canning establishments" now sell for 6 cents what costs them 3 cents, and will sell under the "higher duty on tin" what costs them 3 1-4 cents.

Where—we ask the Herald—where does the "no profit come in?"

And it may be added right here that the McKinley bill, which so many democratic free trade papers denounces as a robber tariff bill, puts tin ore, and tin in bars, on the free list. The free trade papers won't state this fact, but the fact exists all the same. There is hardly anything which belongs to the manufactured class which is cheaper than tin ware. A five dollar bill will buy a cart load. Any tinsmith will tell you that he never saw the time before when all goods in his line were as cheap as they are to-day. They are low in price because competition is great and tin is cheap. If the tin industry of this country can be fostered without imposing a burden on consumers, let that be the policy.

ON THE WRONG SIDE AGAIN.

On any great moral question, the prominent democratic leaders, never have the courage to stand up for the right; and almost always they are supported in this kind of a policy by the partisan judge on the bench. The dissenting opinion of the three democratic justices on the United States Supreme bench on the Edmunds law in Utah, is a humiliating spectacle of the partisanship which enthrones itself in the courts. The object of the law to bring the Mormons under subjection to the United States authorities, to put an end to the crime of polygamy, and to dissolve the Mormon church corporation.

One of the beliefs of the Mormon church is that polygamy is founded on revelation, and upon this crime is the Mormon church established. Without the polygamous doctrines of the church, the corporation could not stand, for there is no deep spirituality in the church, nothing of the progressiveness of modern christianity, nothing that fashions the church after the example of the new gospel—nothing that puts the crown on virtue and honors the home with christian enlightenment.

There was no better way to put an end to polygamous practices of the Mormon church than to pull down the hierarchy altogether, stop the baneful effects of the tithing system which entrenched the church behind a great fund wrung from the people. The supreme court does this thing, and the enlightened sentiment of mankind will applaud the act; it is strange after all the disgraceful experience in Utah, that the democratic judges should express sympathy for the church whose history is black with crime.

Reviving the agitation for the removal of the remains of General Grant the Cincinnati Commercial remarks:—It is not strange that the sentiment in favor of the removal of General Grant's remains to Washington is everywhere growing. The proposition is already discussed among members of the house of representatives to make the erection of the monument to Grant provided for by the senate bill contingent upon the removal of the remains to the National capital. The present situation is one that should not be tolerated. New York has utterly failed to redeem its promise to build a suitable tomb and monument. The present structure is a continuing shame and disgrace. Even if the shabby brick vault were replaced by what a tomb to Grant should be, the surroundings are not reputable. It is true the site is beautiful. But, beyond that, nothing good can be said of it. The final resting place for General Grant should be in the capital which he helped to save.

"A prominent gentleman from Florida" tells the Pittsburg Commercial Gazette that it is a common thing in Florida for a man to vote twenty tickets at a time when there is a sharp demand to carry an election. When it comes to an election, the southern democrats are not slow in scheming. Their best hold is to make an election go all one way.

Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, who recently married Miss Bass, of Buffalo, bears the proud distinction of being the only man on the republican side of the senate who served as a private in the war. He joined a company of the One Hundred and Fiftieth Regiment of Ohio Volunteers in 1864, when only 16 years of age, and saw some service.

The McKinley tariff bill passed the house last evening at 5.15 o'clock by a vote of 162 ayes to 142 nayes. Representative Coleman, of Louisana, being the only republican present who voted in the negative with the democrats.

How a Charge of Shot Travels.

When standing within a few yards of the gun's muzzle at the time of discharge a person would be amazingly astonished where he only able to see the shot as they go whizzing by. Experiments in instantaneous photography have proven to us that the shot not only spread out, comet-like, as they fly, but they string out one behind the other to a much greater distance than they spread. Thus, with a cylinder gun, when the first shot of a charge reaches a target that is 40 yards away the last shot is lagging along ten yards behind. Even with a choke-bore gun some of the shot will lag behind eight yards in forty. This accounts for the wide swath that is mowed in a flock of ducks on which a charge of shot falls just right. About 5 per cent only of the charge of shot arrives simultaneously at the target, but the balance of the first half of the charge is so close behind that a bird's muscles are not quick enough to get it out of the way, although those who have watched sitting birds when shot at have often seen them start as if to fly when the leading shot whistles by them, only to drop dead as they were overtaken by the leaden hail that followed.

Goats as Leaders of Sheep.

In Switzerland and other mountainous countries the goat leads long strings of animals to and from the mountains, but it is in south Africa that it is regularly kept and employed as a leader of flocks of sheep. Should a blinding storm of rain or hail drive the silly sheep before it or cause them to huddle together in a corner so as to be in danger of suffocation, the trained goat will, by a method best known to himself, induce them to follow him to a place of safety.

THE TARIFF REVISION.

The Debate Closed and the McKinley Bill Passed at Five O'Clock Last Evening.

IT GOES THROUGH THE HOUSE BY A VOTE OF 164 TO 142.

Only Two Republicans, Featherston of Arkansas, and Coleman of Louisiana, Vote Against It.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The scene in the House Wednesday morning was a confusing if not an exciting one. The object of members on both sides seemed to be to outvie one another in creating a noise rather than to give any intelligent consideration of the tariff bill. It was next to impossible to understand what was being said, the applause and laughter, and cries of "louder" drowning the voices of the speakers. For half an hour before noon the committee of the whole was a perfect bedlam. No respect was given to the rules; no attention was paid to the recognition of the Chairman, and uproar was the order of the hour, when at noon the committee rose and reported the bill to the House.

Immediately on assembling the House went into committee of the whole, Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, in the chair, on the Tariff bill.

Mr. Baker, of New York, offered an amendment providing that all articles on importations into the United States, whether embraced in the free list or otherwise shall be subject to and pay no less rate of duty than is or may be imposed by the country of export on like articles exported into the United States. This amendment, he said, was in the interest of good government.

Mr. Anderson of Kansas opposed the amendment on the ground that it would place it in the power of the Canadian government to regulate the tariff of the United States.

Mr. Butterworth of Ohio opposed the amendment, saying that it would wreck the interchange of commodities between the United States and every other country and would work a great hardship upon the people.

The previous question on the engrossment and third reading of the bill and amendments was ordered by a vote of yeas, 161; nays, 143. Mr. Coleman, of Louisiana, and Featherstone, of Arkansas, were the only Republicans voting in the negative.

The clerk then began to read amendments. When he reached that increasing the duty on tin plate the Democrats called for a vote. Before the result declared by the Speaker was read, on which ballots were desired, Mr. Carlisle said that the minority desired votes only on those amendments which made increases of duties.

Mr. Kerr (Iowa) and Mr. Thomas (Wis.), Republicans, who had voted with the Democrats against the increase, changed their votes.

Mr. Lind (Minnesota), another republican, announced that he had voted against the amendment under a misapprehension, and therefore changed his vote. The speaker then announced that the yeas were 150, the nays 149.

Applause from the Democrats greeted the announcement of this vote, which came so near being a Democratic victory. Messrs. Butterworth, Flick, Henderson (Iowa), Kelly, Mason, McComas, Mudd and Taylor (Illinois), voted with the Democrats.

When the ways and means committee's amendment, making yarn made of jute dutiable at 35 instead of 30 per cent, was read, Mr. Carlisle asked for a vote. It was explained that by a typographical error jute yarn was made dutiable in the bill at 30 per cent, when the ways and means committee had intended that it should be dutiable at 35 per cent. The Democrats, however, decided to take advantage of the error and called for a vote. Mr. McKinley called for the yeas and nays and the clerk started on the monotony of a roll call.

On this amendment the yeas were 143, nays 144, the first Democratic victory. Democratic applause greeted the announcement of the vote. The Republicans who voted against the amendment were: Anderson (Kan.), Featherstone, Kelly, Lind, Taylor, (Ill.), De Haven, Flick, Henderson (Iowa), Lacey, Snider, Kerr and Dunnell.

Mr. Wheeler (Ala.) appealed to the House in these closing moments to adopt the amendment proposed by him to gradually reduce duties which are in excess of 50 per cent.

Mr. Farquhar (N. Y.) protested against the amount of protection given to barley, and Mr. Bliss (Mich.) characterized the bill as the best measure which had ever been presented to Congress. During this brief discussion the House was in a turmoil. The demands of the chair for order were unheeded, the rules of the committee were disregarded, and each speaker as he arose was greeted with calls of "Louder" and with laughter.

The chairman used his best endeavor to secure quiet, but he was absolutely unable to quell the uproar. In the midst of the confusion the hour of noon arrived, and, in accordance with the special rules adopted, and without a vote being reached on Mr. Baker's amendment, the committee reported the bill to the house.

After the amendments had all been adopted Mr. Carlisle, of Kentucky, offered the following resolution;

RESOLVED, That the pending bill be recommitted to the committee on ways and means, with instructions to report the same back to the House at the earliest possible day, and so amended by substitute or otherwise as to reduce the revenues of the government by reducing the burdens of taxation on the people instead of reducing the duties by imposing prohibitory rates of taxation upon imported goods. [Democratic applause].

The resolution was defeated—yeas, 140, nays 164. [Republican applause].

The bill was then passed—yeas 164, nays 141—amid applause on both sides of the House, the Democratic applause being derisive in its character.

Featherstone, of Arkansas, and Coleman, of Louisiana, were the only two Republicans who voted against the bill.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—In the Senate the resignation of Sergeant-at-arms Canaday was presented to take effect June 30.

After routine business the consideration of the silver bill was resumed and Mr. Stewart addressed the Senate.

He argued that the demonetization of silver had depressed prices of commodities from 30 to 40 per cent, and its remonetization would produce good times again. The object of the silver men was to furnish more money, to stop contraction, to relieve the debtor and producer, and to preserve to the people their rights of property and liberty.

In conclusion he said there was no middle ground in the contest between usury and justice. The demonetization of silver was a crime against civilization, and nothing but the full restoration of that metal to the place which it occupied before the crime was committed could redress the wrong, or redeem the pledge of the Republican party.

The silver bill was then, on motion of Mr. Wilson of Iowa, laid aside, and the bill in relation to liquor imported into prohibitory States was taken up. Mr. Evarts argued in support of the bill and in answer to the constitutional objections urged against it yesterday asserted that whatever State police regulations can be exercised within a State are outside of the jurisdiction of the general government. There was nothing higher or greater or more important or more essential than the recognition within a State of its absolute police authority.

The bill was laid aside without action and after an executive session the Senate adjourned.

DR. BYFORD DEAD.

One of Chicago's Ablest Physicians Is Called Suddenly.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Dr. William H. Byford, one of the oldest and best-known physicians in Chicago, died at 3:30 o'clock this morning. The cause of his death was angina pectoris. The doctor was 73 years old.

A certificate of Dr. Byford's death prepared by his son, also a physician, was forwarded to the health department this morning. Dr. Byford's name is given in full as William Heath Byford, aged 73 years and 2 months. He was born in Eaton, O., and had been a resident of this city thirty-three years. The interment will be in Graceland cemetery at a time yet to be fixed.

Dr. Byford was at the time of his death the professor of gynecology in the Rush medical college. In this branch of medicine and surgery he was considered the first in the profession in this country. He was the author of many text-books on the subjects that have always been accepted as the standard works both in this country and Europe and quoted by medical writers everywhere. Formerly he was instructor in the same branch in the Chicago Medical college. He was an active member and has frequently been an officer at all local, state, and national associations and on two occasions has been selected to represent American physicians at international congresses in Berlin, London, and Edinburg.

Besides being a professor of gynecology at the Rush Medical college Dr. Byford was president of the Woman's Medical college, at which place he was also professor of gynecology; he was lecturer on surgery at the woman's hospital training-school, consulting gynecology physician at the Chicago hospital for women and children, consulting gynecology physician at Wesley hospital, acting gynecologist at the Woman's hospital, consulting physician at the Erring Woman's Refuge, attending gynecologist at St. Luke's hospital, consulting gynecologist at the Central free dispensary, and attending physician at the Oak Woods Spring sanitarium. Of many of these he was the founder. The large and magnificently appointed woman's hospital at Thirty-second street and Indiana avenue is seldom called by any other name than Byford's hospital.

Dr. Byford leaves a wife and several children. One of his sons is Dr. H. T. Byford, and Mrs. Leonard, who is a factory commissioner and a member of Health Commissioner Wickersham's force, is a daughter.

MANY BAPTISTS MEET.

The May Anniversaries Inaugurated at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The annual national anniversaries of the Baptist denominational societies began Wednesday morning at the Immanuel Baptist church, with the anniversary of the American Baptist Publication society.

The other societies that are to hold meetings during the next eight days are the Missionary Union, organized in 1814 with head quarters at Boston; the American Home Mission Society, organized in 1832 with headquarters in New York; the American Baptist Education Society, organized in 1888 in Chicago, and the Women's Baptist Home Missionary Society, organized in 1877 at Chicago.

The Publication Society, which convened this morning, was organized in 1824. Its headquarters are in Philadelphia. During the year it has published 33,000,000 books and pamphlets, disbursed $665,444.94, and sent out 132 missionaries.

The exercises of the morning began with prayer and singing a little after 10 o'clock. The report of the committee on arrangements was cordially received and various committees were appointed. After reports of the board of managers and the treasurer the rest of the day was spent in listening to addresses and discussion of the themes presented.

EYRAUD CAPTURED.

The Slayer of Notary Gouffe Taken at Havana.

HAVANA, May 22.—The police here have captured the Frenchman, Miguel Eyraud, who during the month of July last murdered Notary Gouffe in Paris. Eyraud registered at the Hotel Roma under the name of Miguel Doski. He claimed to be a native of Poland. When he was placed in jail he attempted to commit suicide by cutting the veins in his legs and arms with a piece of glass. He lost a great deal of blood before medical assistance could be obtained, but the doctors attending him say he will recover. In his trunk were found several French newspapers containing an account of his crime. A pistol and a dagger were also found in the trunk.

Strikers at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, M. Y., May 22.—The strike of the mill-hands for ten hours' pay for nine hours' work continues, and it is believed the carpenters and wood-workers will join the strikers during the day. The bosses are still firm and refuse to make terms with the men on the new basis, alleging that if the men do not return to work the mills will close down.

Four Men Were Killed.

JELLICO, Tenn., May 22.—A hand-car on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia railroad was run down eight miles west of here last night by a freight train. Two men were killed two were fatally injured and have since died.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given, that a pardon will be asked for Frank O. Dickerson who was sentenced May 26th, 1879, to imprisonment for life, in the state prison, for complicity in the death of George Mack, whose death occurred July 14th, 1878, at the town of Turtle, in the county of Rock and state of Wisconsin. That said pardon proceedings will be heard on Wednesday, the 11th day of June, 1890; or as soon thereafter as the governor may appoint, at the city of Madison, Wisconsin.

Dated this 17th day of May, 1890, at Janesville, Rock County, Wisconsin.

It Don't Signify What a Man Does

Only so he does RIGHT and does it well. In buying either Forest Park, Glen-Etta or Riverview Park home sites you will be doing exactly the right thing and if you do it soon it will be well done.

"It goes without saying" that you cannot make a mistake by purchasing in either of these delightful additions.

The time is not far distant when to get a home site in these localities will not be an easy thing to do.

In Forest we can sell you a lot at any price you may desire from $200 upward, and whatever priced lot you select you will get 50 per cent more than your money value. In this addition we are now putting a water main that is of capacity to supply every lot in the whole tract with water. Buyers NOW can get their lots with this great advantage and at a very low price. As soon as the main is finished, every lot in the "Forest" is sure to go up.

In Glen-Etta we can sell you a lot from $200 to $1000, the $1000 lots cannot be duplicated in all desirable qualities that go to make up what is wanted for a FIRST CLASS homesite in the state. The $200 are good ones and then take the $400 and $500 lots you cannot buy one and hold it a year without being offered at least 25 per cent advance on cost. However, Glen-Etta is not yet through its CREEPING days; the little damsel will walk early, much earlier than is usual with children in this climate.

We do not need to sing the praises of "Riverview," it sings for itself and sings well. There are a good many hundred people who read this "Ad" who know just what Riverview is; there are yet other hundreds who have never been up there, these latter are losing much of beauty out of their life by not taking in this Park as often as twice each week. Some of our new improvements are now well along, we have a "quiver full" yet, of those "unsprung surprises" we spoke of and from week to week we shall SPRING them. If you don't keep a horse and do not care to do a half mile walk you can catch "The Carrington Bus" almost every hour of the day and take a ride for a NICKLE and take in Forest, Glen-Etta and Riverview. When we said a while back that there were hundreds of people who knew just what Riverview is, we should have said they knew just what it HAS BEEN; to-night Riverview is handsomer than ever before; to-morrow night and on the night of all to-morrows she will be still more handsome than on last night; to do this miracle, is what we spend our money, our time and our brains for. Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

You Will "Get There" With Both Feet.

If you take any one of these bargains.

Take the Henry Crane home on Center avenue. We will sell it to you if you buy it within a week, at more than $1,000 less than its value.

Take the Dr. Judd home, 104 Bluff street. You can't buy another home so central and desirable in this city at any where near what we will sell you this one if taken before May 25th.

Take the Norris home, 161 South Franklin street. It's worth a good deal more money than we ask for it now; to get it at this low price it must go quick, or we will advance it and sell it.

Take our own new house 38 Riverview Park. If you can duplicate in Janesville for less than $2,250, we don't know it. For a week we don't propose to ask but $2,000 for it, and after that time $2,100. If not taken before, we shall have a customer back, who is now out of town who will pay $2,250 for it and we can build him a duplicate of it, at this last named price.

Take lot number one, Riverview Park, if you do, take it before 8:00 p. m. Saturday of this week i. e. TO-DAY; you get it for $630; after that hour our price for one more week will be only $650. The lot is CHEAP at $750.

Take the first lot beyond the "Munger place," the old Humphrey place (or rather the Humphrey house on its new foundation); the lot is 4 rods front on Clark street and 12 rods deep; now what do you suppose you can buy it for? We know as well as you do that it is a better lot than can be bought in this city elsewhere for $1,000, but it didn't cost us much, and just for a week we feel so liberal that we propose to make some one a present of a few hundred dollars. It will pay you to ask us about it.

We could go on and enumerate bargains to you all day, but what is the use of saying more? We don't know. Do you? Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

P. S.—This coming week is our BARGAIN WEEK.

In pastures green we wander,
In corn lands rich we roam;
In tobacco fields - - -

We started in here to write some poetry but a friend of the public has asked us to desist and as a matter of public policy we do so, and only pause to add that on the Burr Robbins' farm we have some of "these things" to rent. Call and see us about them.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

We are Not Built that Way.

If we were, we could be real mean and insist on your having "THE HOME" whether you want it or not. We shall issue the May number of "THE HOME" about the 20th, a few days late, owing to press of business. In case you do not want it, please write us, so stating in as concise language as possible and enclose us two 2 cent stamps for a reply and we will make every effort in our power to prevent the paper reaching you. To avail yourself of this offer your letter as above should be on our desk, not later than 11:30 p. m. May 24th. In absence of your letter we may send you "THE HOME" again. This is the way we are built.

Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

DIED WITHOUT WARNING.

THE WIFE OF JUDGE MASTERSON FALLS DEAD IN A HOTEL.

Second Chapter in a New York Sensation—A South Chicago Man Killed by a Negro.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A few weeks ago Judge Murat Masterson a New Mexico millionaire, created a great sensation by securing the arrest of his mistress, Mrs. Hopkinson, for attempting to shoot him. A second chapter has been added to the story by the sudden death of Mrs. Masterson, who had just arrived in the city from New Mexico. She had read in the papers the report of the scandal and sought an explanation from her husband. She had been out to see her husband but had not found him. As she entered her room at the Grand Union hotel she uttered a cry and fell to the floor dead. A physician who was called said she had died from heart disease, but the authorities thought it necessary, in view of the peculiar circumstances, to hold an autopsy.

SOUTH CHICAGO MURDER.

Michael Connors Instantly Killed by Henry Martin.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Michael Connors, a laboring man, was shot and instantly killed about 4 o'clock this morning near the corner of Ninety-first street and Central avenue in South Chicago.

The man who did the shooting was Aenry Martin, a negro. The two men had quarreled about some matter and the upshot of the affair was that Martin drew his revolver and killed Connors. The murderer then fled. The police were notified and about four hours after the tragedy captured Martin on the outskirts of South Chicago. The fellow is about 22 years old and is a stock-yards laborer.

ELOPED WITH A JOCKEY.

Miss Dell Day's Visit to the Races Ends in a Runaway Match.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—Billy Mack, a horse jockey known throughout the Forthwest, and Miss Dell Day, the daughter of Jesse N. Day, one of the most prominent citizens of Dayton, Wash., have eloped and were married at Waltsburg. Miss Day fell in love with the jockey while attending the races last fall. She sought him out, introduced herself, and the admiration became mutual. Her father's sanction to the marriage was asked but was denied indignantly, and the elopement followed. Mack is in the employ of S. G. Reed, the millionaire breeder of fine stock, who says the young people shall have a good home on one of his farms.

Kansas Citys Defaulting Treasurer.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 22.—The shortage in City Treasurer Peake's accounts and his suspension from office is almost the sole topic of conversation. City Controller Stanley Hobbs, by direction of Mayor Holmes, took charge of the Treasurer's office and business went on as usual.

The net deficit, as announced, is $21,006.16. The Mayor has called a special meeting of the city council to appoint an investigating committee to go over the books. This will take about two days, after which Peake will be given an opportunity to defend himself before the council.

Suicide of a Young Woman.

HAMILTON, Ohio, May 22.—Near Monon, Ind., about midnight a young woman on the vestibule train tied a rope about her neck, fastened the other end to the railing of the car, and threw herself off. As soon as the act was discovered the train was stopped, an engine sent back, and the remains found in a pool of water. No one knew her. A ticket from Duluth, Minn., to Cincinnati was on her person.

Not Killed in Utah.

BEATRICE, Neb., May 22.—The reported murder in Utah of C. W. Collins of New York City, member of the firm of Kilpatrick Bros. & Collins, railroad contractors, is entirely a myth. Mr. Collins is in Portland, Ore., from where he telegraphed the home firm, whose offices and headquarters are in this city.

Taken from Court and Lynched.

COLUMBUS, Miss., May 22.—Frank Anderson, colored, was taken from the court room where he was being tried for attempted assault upon a 13-year-old girl and hanged to the nearest tree.

ORIGINAL PACKAGES IN IOWA.

Judge Hindman Charges a Grand Jury to Indict All Dealers.

NEVADA, Iowa, May 22.—At the opening of court Judge Hindman, in his charge to the grand jury, gave the orginal package business a black eye in this section. He charged them that notwithstanding the late decision of the United States Supreme court no person has a right in this State to keep a place for the sale of intoxicating liquors of any kind, either in original packages or otherwise, and said it was the sworn duty of the jurors to report to the court by indictment any person engaged in the keeping of such a place, without regard to where such liquors came from. He takes the ground that the State has the inherent right to prohibit and abate nuisances and punish persons engaged in maintaining a nuisance within its borders and that the question of inter-State commerce has nothing to do with it. That the keeping of a place for the sale of liquors as a beverage is a nuisance, whether dealt out in original package or some other way, and that the late decision is not in conflict with this view.

JOHN SUTHERLAND, a well-known north Wisconsin lumberman, was fatally injured by falling beneath rolling logs on Cranberry river. His brother, A. D., was also hurt at the same time.

GEORGE S. TURNER of Seattle, Wash., who is under arrest at New York, is wanted in Seattle for conspiracy with George McCourt in the embezzlement of $15,000 from the relief funds sent at the time of the recent fire.

A NEWSPAPER man at Kootenay Lake, B. C., says that he saw Viscount Boyle at that place in October, 1888. He was then on his way to Montana to hunt elk. This is the last time the Irish nobleman was seen.

A Beautiful Magazine.

The Chicago Journal says: "Not content with beating the world with its art calendars for 1890, the Chicago & Grand Trunk railway has now eclipsed its own record by the publication of a magazine, entitled 'Gateways of Tourist Travel.' The work is elegantly gotten up and contains a host of the finest photogravure views of scenes along the line of the road. The whole forms a work of art."

This beautiful book is printed on coated book paper, with seventy-five engravings, all of the photogravure of half-tone process, fifty large quarto pages, and mailed free to any address on receipt of 20 cents in postage stamps by W. E. Davis, G. P. & T. A., Chicago & Grand Trunk Railway, Chicago, Ill.

The sale of summer tourists' tickets commences June 1. The "Seaside and White Mountain Special," finest train in the world, will be run each Wednesday commencing with June 25. Write for particulars.

Wall Street.

NEW YORK, May 21.—The action of the stock market during the early hours was nervous and erratic. Transactions were centered in a few stocks and these were up and down in a way that left doubt as to whether the list as a whole was strong or weak. The tone of the market was still hesitating and irregular and first prices were in most cases fractionally lower than last night's figures, the losses extending to ⅝ per cent among the active shares. The subsequent movements in the general list were confined to insignificant fractions. The market toward the end of the hour became quiet, and at 11 o'clock it was only active and about steady. Before noon a stronger feeling was noticed.

Money is close at 6@7 per cent. Bar silver, $1.03 1-2 to $1.04.

BIG SCHEME EXPOSED.

Alleged Discovery of a Plot to Capture Lower California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 22.—The Chronicle devotes four columns to the details of an alleged conspiracy to capture Lower California and to found an independent republic followed by annexation to the United States. The story involves a number of prominent capitalists interested in Lower California lands and mines and well known citizens of Los Angeles and San Diego, the latter place apparently being the headquarters of the filibusters. A large warehouse at Ensenada, it is said, was to be secretly filled with arms and ammunition for the revolutionists. One scheme was to get a lot of Americans on the peninsula as railroad laborers and capture the Mexican man-of-war Democarta during a ball to be given the Mexican officials. The secret preliminary operations were to be conducted, it is said, under cover of a Mexican land and colonization company.

STARVING TO DEATH.

Dubuque Has a Man Who Hasn't a Pound of Flesh on His Body.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, May 22.—The case of Thomas Francis Sutton here is attracting the attention of medical men all over the country. Not an ounce of solid food has gone into his stomach for eleven weeks, and he is slowly dying of starvation, though he experiences none of the pangs of hunger. His stomach and intestines are paralyzed, caused primarily by an injury to his spine. He is entirely rational and talks cheerfully of the inevitable, and that can be but a little ways off. He is devoutly pious and spends much time with priests and Sisters of Charity. There is not a pound of flesh on his whole body.

THEIR WEDDING TRIP.

Walter Damrosch and His Bride Sail for Europe.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The steamer Columbia of the Hamburg-American line sails with a large number of cabin passengers. Among others bound for Southampton are Mr. Walter J. Damrosch and his bride, formerly Miss Margaret Blaine. Mr. and Mrs. Damrosch will be absent on their honeymoon until September, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie.

A Superb Wheat Crop in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 22.—The rainfall of the past two days has extended over Kansas, and the average fall for the last forty-eight hours is estimated at two inches. The rain was most opportune. The wheat in Kansas is unusually well advanced this spring, and is just now at a stage when moisture is greatly needed. In many localities it is beginning to head, and the recent showers will carry it over the critical period of growth. The crop is now in superb condition all over the State, and the prospect is for the finest harvest that Kansas has ever witnessed.

A Dam Carried Away.

AUGUSTA, Maine, May 22.—It is learned that the "Moxie" dam at the outlet of the Moxie pond, a body of water six miles long, located near the forks of the Kennebec, was carried away yesterday, and a rise of from five to ten feet is anticipated in the river. Some 5,000,000 logs are in the lake and it will be difficult to drive them out.

A Shortage of Fruit Jars.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 22.—At the meeting of flint glass manufacturers held here it was discovered that there is a great shortage of fruit jars throughout the country. Several Eastern manufacturers came here expecting to place orders with Western men, but are disappointed. An advance of 25 per cent on this line of goods is expected.

Five Miners Killed.

CALUMET, Mich., May 22.—Five miners, named Michael Beacher, Mat Scholar, Joseph Genesarch, Austrians, and Dominick and Cinglia, Italians, were killed by a rock which fell on them in No. 11 shaft, South Hecla branch of the Calumet and Hecla mine.

Mad Dog in a School House.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, May 22.—A mad dog gained access to the North Hill school building and created a panic among the teachers and pupils. A butcher from a neighoring shop arrived opportunely and killed the animal with a ball club.

Slavin Will Not Meet McAuliffe.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A cablegram from London has been received stating Frank Slavin declince to meet Joe McAuliffe, as the latter has been beaten by Jackson. Slavin will fight the winner of the Sullivan-Jackson match or Jim Corbett for £1,000.

THEY MAKE ONE FEEL as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

Supremely Delightful

To the emaciated and debilitated invalid is the sense of returning health and strength produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. When that promotor of vigor is tested by persons in feeble health, its restorative and vitalizing potency soon evinces itself in improved appetite, digestion and nightly repose, the sole conditions under which strength and nerve quietude is vouchsafed to the human system. A gain in flesh of course ensues upon the restoration of digestion and assimilation. As surely as winter follows the fall of the leaf, does disease shadow the footsteps of declining strength, when the premature decadence of vitality is not arrested. Marasmus, constipation and other wasting maladies are prompt to fasten upon the enfeebled. Avert disease, therefore, with this grand enabling tonic, which not only renews failing strength, but mitigates and counteracts the infirmities of age and those of the gentler sex. Rheumatism, malaria, liver and kidney troubles yield to it.

RUSSIAN PRISON HORRORS

ATROCIOUS TREATMENT OF A FEEBLE WOMAN EXILE.

Carried From a Consumptive's Bed on a Long Journey in Mid-Winter—News From the Old World.

LONDON, May 22.—Recent reports of outrages in prisons of Siberia have had the effect of increasing the severity with which the national prisoners are treated, for to them the reports are attributed.

A gentleman who has just returned from Siberia brings the report of another horrible outrage, of which he says he was an eye-witness. It took place in the prison at Kara, where the previous outrages occurred which have aroused Europe. In this case the victim was also a woman. The governor visited the prison, found her among those suspected of having given information, and ordered her instant removal to Virkniondusk. The poor creature was wasted by consumption and unable to rise from her bed. By the orders of the Governor she was dragged, half-naked, by the soldiers into the court-yard of the prison, thrust into a sledge, and driven off at a gallop in the dead of winter.

The woman died before arriving at her destination. A demand has been made for the removal of Inspector Bedroiskey for wantonly shooting political prisoners under convoy.

SALISBURY ALARMED.

The English Premier Hastily Calls a Cabinet Meeting for Friday.

LONDON, May 22.—A cabinet council has been called for Friday, and much speculation is rife as to the matters the importance of whose discussion influenced the government's hasty action. It is given out that the council is called to discuss the Irish legislation before the House of Commons and the practicability of modifying the compensation clause of the local taxation bill. The Star, in its comments on the sudden summoning of the council, expresses its belief that the government is becoming alarmed at the growing opposition to its leading measures and thinks it is not unlikely that the present agitation against the land purchase bill will end in the withdrawal of the measure, if it does not result in a dissolution of Parliament. One, if not both, of these events, the Star opines, is certain. As to the obnoxious compensation proposal, an immense amount of pressure is being brought to bear upon the government to induce its withdrawal.

LONDON, May 22.—The House has passed the budget bill.

TO BE DEALT OUT IN MAINE.

The "Original Package" Business Reaches the East.

LEWISTON, Maine, May 22.—The original-package business has begun in this city in earnest, and the prohibition wail of woe has reached a concert pitch. A car was sidetracked at the upper Maine Central station yesterday that carried five barrels containing forty-five barrels of beer each and a large number of kegs full of the same liquid.

When taken from the cars the liquor was loaded on drays and hauled to a store on Lincoln street kept by a well-known and wealthy citizen. Though the police were cognizant of the arrival of the stuff they made no attempt to seize it. It is well known that the receiver has been on a trip recently to Portsmouth, N. H., where, it is stated, he made arrangements to handle, as agent for Lewiston and its vicinity, the products of the Jones brewery.

It is common talk on the streets that a large "original package" shop will soon be opened by this local "agent," and that it will be sold to all comers in kegs, in which it comes from the brewery. The dealer says he does not fear any trouble, as the brewing firm has agreed to stand all the costs should any of the liquor be seized and a test case result from such seizure.

WILL FIGHT THE STANDARD OIL

A Strong Independent Oil Company Formed at Lima, Ohio.

LIMA, Ohio, May 22.—The strongest independent oil company ever organized in the Ohio oil fields was perfected today, and will be known as the Manhattan Oil Company. The capital stock is $2,000,000. The company has quietly secured over 1,000 acres of choice territory, contracted for 1,000 tank-line cars and is negotiating for the purchase of ground for a refinery.

WENT THROUGH A BRIDGE.

An Accident to a Maine Central Train Results in Several Deaths.

LEWISTON, Maine, May 22.—Yesterday six washouts were reported on the upper Coos railroad, New Hampshire, operated by the Maine Central. A wrecking train that started out to make repairs went through an undermined bridge six miles north of Stratford. J. Twohey, superintendent of the road, and several section men were buried under the engine, and are reported killed.

MONTERCOLE CONVICTED.

He Gets Six Months for Defaming His Wife's Character.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 22.—Guiseppe Carusi, alias "Count Montercole," pleaded guilty before Judge Thayer to libel. The defendant, the 12th of April last, issued a circular which contained defamatory statements regarding his wife, Virginia Knox Carusi of Pittsburg. The "Count" was sentenced to six months in jail.

Frank Lawler Very Ill.

CHICAGO, May 22.—A dispatch received from Washington this afternoon says that during the debate on the tariff bill Congressman Adams, of Chicago, arose and said that Congressman Lawler had been taken suddenly and seriously ill, and he had been authorized to pair him with Mr. Payson, of Illinois, who is also sick.

Peculiar

To itself in many important particulars, Hood's Sarsaparilla is different from and superior to any other medicine.

Peculiar in combination, proportion and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its medicinal merit, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown.

Peculiar in strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "100 doses one dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time. Do not be induced to take any other preparation. Be sure to get

Not a Pimple on Baby

Baby One Year Old Bad with Eczema, Hair all gone, Scalp covered with Eruptions, Cured by Cuticura, Hair Splendid and not a Pimple on Him.

Cured by Cuticura.

I cannot say enough in praise of the Cuticura Remedies. My boy, when one year of age, was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions, which the doctor said was scald head, and that his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure from physicians, I began to use the Cuticura Remedies, and I am happy to say, with the most perfect success. His hair is now splendid and there is not a pimple on him. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to mothers as the most speedy, economical and sure cure for all skin diseases of infants and children, and feel that every mother who has an afflicted child will thank me for so doing.
MRS. M. E. WOODSUM, Norway, Me.

Fever Sore Eight Years.

I must extend to you the thanks of one of my customers, who has been cured by using the Cuticura Remedies, of an old sore caused by a long spell of sickness or fever eight years ago. He was so bad that he was fearful he would have to have his leg amputated, but is happy to say is now entirely well—sound as a dollar. He requests me to use his name, which is H. H. Carson, merchant.
JOHN V. MINOR, Druggist, Gainsboro Tenn.

We have been selling your Cuticura Remedies for years and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw was cured by them.

The above bright and benevolent face, is Dr. A. W. Acker, of England, discoverer of the celebrated Acker's English Remedy for Consumption and other popular preparations. Dr. Acker practised in his younger days among the middle classes of London, and was the means of doing great good, but his health failed and he found himself in the grasp of consumption, with a wife and child depending upon him for support. While in this condition, he discovered the celebrated English Remedy, saved his own life and has since saved the lives of thousands who were on the sure road to death. Any man or woman who feels a tickling in the throat, who coughs, especially in the morning, who raises or has a tight feeling across the chest, who has sharp shooting pains through the lungs or difficulty in breathing, should realize that these are the first symptoms of consumption which, if neglected, are sure to result fatally. Dr. Acker's English Remedy has cured more than one thousand persons who unquestionably had consumption and who were given up by their friends. It merits its popularity and is sold by reputable druggists in every city and town in America. You can't afford to be without it.

Sold by all dealers.

SOME CHOICE RECIPES.

Good Common Doughnuts.—One quart of flour, one egg, one cupful each of sugar and sweet milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a pinch of salt, spice to taste, and fry in hot lard.

Lady-Fingers.—Rub a half pound of butter into one pound of flour and a half pound of sugar; grate in the rind of two lemons, squeeze in the juice of one, add three beaten eggs, make into rolls; when done dip in chocolate icing.

Tomato Soup.—To one pint can of tomatos add one can of boiling water and boil ten minutes. Strain through a colander or vegetable strainer and return to the stove, season with butter, pepper, and salt, add one teacup of sweet milk and four tablespoonfuls of finely powdered cracker crumbs.

Gingerbread.—Three cups of flour, one each of milk, molasses, sugar, and butter, the latter scant. Cream the butter and sugar together with three beaten eggs; add the molasses with one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in it; next stir in two tablespoonsful of cloves, add the milk, and lastly the flour.

Serving Bananas.—To make a salad of bananas, slice half a dozen and put in a dish with layers of as many oranges, also sliced. Over all squeeze the juice of a lemon and sprinkle plentifully with powdered sugar. Serve very cold. Any delicate cake baked in layers and put together with layers of bananas sliced very thin will make a choice dessert. The cake should be served with sweetened whipped cream or it will be too dry to be palatable.

Boiled Chicken with Oysters—Prepare the chicken as for roasting, adding chopped oysters to the stuffing. Put the fowl in a tin pail, tightly covered, and place the pail in a pot of cold water. Boil one and one-half or two hours as required. Make a gravy from the liquor in the pail, adding to it some of the oysters. Take a half-dozen of the largest oysters cooked until the edges curl and lay over the chicken. Put over it a little of the gravy, and serve in a bowl.

Chocolate Caramels—One cup each of molasses and white sugar, one-half cup of sweet milk, in which you have rubbed smooth two heaping teaspoonfuls of sifted flour. Stir altogether, and when you think it has boiled nearly enough add a piece of good butter the size of an egg and one cup of unsweetened chocolate, scraped or grated. Boil till a little dropped in cold water will harden without spreading much. Cool in buttered tins to the depth of one-half inch, and mark in squares when nearly cold. Wrap each square in a bit of oiled tissue paper.

American College of Musicians

The American College of Musicians will hold its annual examinations at the University of the City of New York the last week in June. Information regarding details, requirements, etc., may be obtained by application to Robert Bonner, Secretary, No. 60 Williams street, Providence, R. I.

Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," was given recently in the People's church, St. Paul, by the St. Paul Choral association, under the direction of Mr. Samuel A. Baldwin, late of Chicago. The soloists were: Miss Genevra L. Johnstone, Chicago; Miss Julia May, Minneapolis; Mr. C. A. Knorr, Chicago, and Mr. A. W. Porter, Minneapolis.

THE new musical department of Yale College was formerly opened April 28, with exercises in Osborn Hall, including an address by Dr. Gustav J. Stoeckel, the incumbent of the new Battell professorship of music at the college, a musical program presented by the members of the musical class and by Mr. Charles S. Elliott, Yale '67, and an address by Prof. Dwight. A reception was afterwards held in the treasury building, which was handsomely fitted up and decorated for the occasion. There were about 400 invited guests from New Haven, New York, Hartford, Boston and other places.

The Milwaukee Musical Society intends celebrating its fortieth anniversary by the production of Gluck's music drama, "Orpheus," in strict accordance with the principles laid down by Richard Wagner, that the arts of music, painting, poetry and dramatic expression should blend in one harmonious whole for the production of a true dramatic work and not merely an opera in the commonly accepted sense of that term. The circular of the management states that "no labor, no expense, no support has been spared to achieve the purpose thus made clear. To this end the resources of the Stadt Theater, Bach's orchestra, Luening's conservatory and the society's chorus as well as finances are jointly pledged. From conductor to costumer it is the ensemble only, and that for true art's sake, that has been considered."

Sig. Perugini has received hearty encomiums from some of the New York papers for his work during the Italian opera season at the Metropolitan opera-house in that city. The Commercial Advertiser says: "Sig Perugini may deservedly pride himself on being one of the few tenors nowadays able to do full justice to the florid measures of Almavina. His voice being exceedingly well trained and flexible to a degree he sings the numerous coloratura passages with the greatest ease, adding an elegance thereto which has not been approached by any lyric tenor within the Metropolitan opera-house for many a day." The World says: "Sig. Perugini, who appeared as Almavina, did himself great credit. His acting is graceful and his singing of the 'Ecco redients in ciele' was a most finished piece of vocalization."

FASHION NOTES.

Ooze-leather caps are the latest agony. They come in yacht, reefer, canoe, and the cute club styles, and are as soft and dainty as doeskin.

Ladies' suede sixteen-button gloves come in tans, modes, grays, pearl, and ivory. They are of the finest quality of kid, and are heavily perfumed.

The gray and pale-brown homespuns and serges are being put in shape for the summer's outing in the country. With small open jackets, lined with bright silk, the dresses appear very becoming.

Mantalets of black lace are much worn. Some are in jacket form, closely fitting, with bands of jet embroidery down the back and a cascade of lace in front, with jet on either side; jet fringes edge the long sleeves of lace.

The plaids are making a brilliant show on the promenades, being much worn by both old and young. A green and gray plaid made quite a sensation. It had panels cut bias. The gray square in the plaid was matched by the sash.

A great many dresses are now being made up from prints of old dresses. Some novel effects are produced, and it must be confessed that it surprises one to come suddenly upon one of these antique costumes upon the street.

The accordion skirts occasion their wearers much disquietude when they flatten and spread, but, nevertheless, they continue in favor and may be said to be growing in popularity. The effect, when they are at their best, is certainly very charming.

Garden parties are already on the tapis, although a reasonable sense of the danger of tic douloreux and neuralgia should debar ladies from participating in them till the end of May. The dresses for these parties are of soft material and embrace pongees, foulards, taffetas, and failles.

Jerseys are being looked up for the yachting, tennis, and dress parties of the season. The spring forms are tempting. The jerseys for boating have deep marine collars, spreading reverse, and wide sailor tie. They present an easy look, but fit closely. Jerseys will certainly be more popular than ever.

In fans the finest quality are in satin. They are hand-painted in designs of wild roses, buds, forget-me-nots, and are in most beautiful shades—cardinals, snuff, cream, pink, blue, and black. The finest quality of tulle fans are delicately painted by hand in flowered designs, in blue, pink, beige, cream, or cardinal.

Table linen shows some changes. Threads of silk are woven in the damask. When a gold-colored thread is run through white damask the effect is peculiarly bright and rich, and delights the housewife with the consciousness that the pleasure she feels is shared by her guests. Very elaborate table scarfs are the rule. They are embroidered in threadlace patterns with hemstitch borders.

The new turn-over, fold-up parasols are quite the style. The parasols match the French ginghams, and for persons in mourning gros-grain parasols trimmed with crape are the thing. On some parasols there are deep lace frills on the edge, and quite often considerable puffing. The variety is indeed almost bewildering, as there are accordion-plaited frills, ribbon-woven borders, damask-edged insertion points, extending halfway down from the top. In handles the London club stick, short and thick, is popular, but the longer, lighter sticks, handsomely carved, are much prettier.

In carpets, body Brussels are chiefly in light and medium colors. The patterns are old French, in flowers and set patterns; soft monotone tints, with but little contrast of color are preferred. Fine, rich colors prevail in hall and stair carpets, filling the halls with a ruddy glow. Soft moquette flower effects come and French patterns and colorings appear in the velvets, which are the most durable, and comparatively the most inexpensive. Axminsters come in delicate pearl and creamy ground, with faint flower designs. The plain Wiltons are always in demand. They come in shades of terra-cotta, Roman reds, blues, drabs, olives, and gold. Five-eighths borders, in contrasting colors, are favorites.

KANSAN PHILOSOPHY.

There are some fools that a fish diet won't save.

There are so many things to admire in the people who admire us.

The desire to get even was the first acknowledgement of failure.

When everything else fails a man he still has his vanity to fall back on.

Poverty never travels in the wake of the man who minds his own affairs.

If our sins were only as unobtrusive as the goodness of others is obtrusive.

You can flatter the worst idler on earth by telling him he is working too hard.

Some letters are anonymous even when the authors' names are signed to them.

The possibility of being found out is the greatest moral agent, when you get right down to facts.

It makes no difference what a man's first impulse is in an argument with a woman, his last is to run.

The trouble of it is that if you stop trying to make friends you are beginning to make enemies.

Looking before you leap means to count the friends of a man's friends before telling him your seecret.

There is one thing you can always depend upon and that is that you can never depend upon others.

Too much religion is as dangerous to a man's welfare as too little religion is to the welfare of a community.

All that you need to do is to give some people time and they will vindicate your judgment by making fools of themselves.

There probably never was a woman who could argue without getting mad, or a man who could get mad without beginning to argue.

How natural it is to hate the people whose only comment when you do one good thing, is that you said you were going to do two.

The trouble with doing a good thing to-day is that people will say that you are going backward if you do not do a better thing to-morrow.

A woman does not accept invitations to parties so much for the reason that she wants to go as in the fear that people will not know she is invited if she stays away.

SUBJECT TO INFLUENCE.

We all are creatures subject to influence by our fellows.

If one neighbor whose judgment you trust, engage in an enterprise, you pay heed to his efforts in proportion as you respect his judgment.

We believe his statements in proportion as he has established a reputation for trustworthiness.

If two neighbors of good judgment engage in an enterprise, you pay—or should pay—double attention to their statements.

If three or four reputable, sound, solid successful, enterprising merchants in your city, or if as many of the leaders in the towns around, unite, with a common approval of judgment, after mature investigation, in the very same enterprise, you should be satisfied that the enterprise they accept and offer to you, is well worthy at least your investigation.

This is precisely the situation with regard to the new system, undertaken by respectable and solid merchants in your vicinity, of reaching the humblest home with the greatest reference library which the English literature affords.

By methods and machinery but recently invented, a nine-dollar book is reproduced, practically as good and more durably, at a cost astonishingly low.

By the invention of new ideas in trade, which do simple justice to the cash buyer, this grand prize is offered you in a remarkable way.

The reputation, the intelligence, the pledge, of merchant neighbors, stand back of their offer to you.

No one claims to be "giving you something for nothing," nor to be selling anything 'below cost.'

But we do claim that we offer you the grandest prize in your business experience.

Respectfully,
BURNS & BOLAND,
A. C. MUNGER.

The Madison Convocation of Episcopal churches closed its session at Christ church last evening. The services in the evening were principally devoted to missionary work in this diocese, and were quite interesting to those in attendance.

"That Swede" has come and gone. The kids "got onto him," and the audience that greeted the combination last evening at Lappin's opera house was one of the smallest ever assembled there at a public exhibition. Although small, it was large enough to express disgust at such attempts to amuse the public.

The editor of the Recorder, in his dual capacity of scribe and school official, aided by his imaginary correspondent, is making a desperate effort to injure Prof. Stewart. Journalistic courtesy and common decency would suggest that further discussion is not only uncalled for but insulting to the retiring superintendent.

The Bower City Band gave an open air concert last evening on the corn exchange square. It drew out an immense number of people, the streets and walks surrounding the square being packed with ladies and gentlemen, all of whom were delighted with the excellent music rendered. The Bower City Band is improving rapidly under the instruction of Prof. Bates, and is now one of the best musical organizations in the state.

As a result of the passenger-rate war now going on between the leading western railways nearly everybody is riding on the cars. This necessitates extra cars, and some of the through trains are greatly increased in length. The rate now from St. Paul to Milwaukee and Chicago is three dollars, with a corresponding low rate between Chicago and Council Bluffs. On the Council Bluffs line the trains have been lengthened out to the full capacity of the largest passenger locomotives. It is claimed by railway officials that the increase of travel does not make up the loss of the cut in rates, and that all roads are losing money by the operation.

PERSONAL.

Ogden H. Fethers, Esq., is in Madison on business to-day.

JOHN ROBINSON'S SHOW

The Great Exhibition Drawing Crowds of People to the County Fair Grounds.

GREAT INDUSTRIAL PARADE OF M'CORMICK BINDERS.

Meeting of Rock County Teachers To-Morrow—Many Other Interesting Local Items.

THE ROBINSON SHOW.

A Very Creditable Street Parade—The Performance this Afternoon and Evening.

The John Robinson circus and menagerie arrived in this city at an early hour this morning coming from Beloit via. the Northwestern road. It required forty three cars to carry all the paraphernalia of the show. As early as five o'clock the unloading was commenced and from that hour until nine o'clock the heavy wagons were continually passing through Milwaukee street from the depot to the fair grounds where the field of tents were placed. The grand street parade was given at ten o'clock, and while it was not as large as some that have taken place in Janesville, it was very fine, evidence that it is a first class show in every detail.

The John Robinson show is the oldest exhibition in the country, having been organized over sixty-nine years ago.

The city was full of people during the forenoon parade, and hundreds followed the red wagons as they returned to the fair grounds after the parade.

This morning a representative of the Gazette visited the fair grounds and was shown about by Mr. John Lowlow, the press agent. The big tent will seat eight thousand people and has two rings. The menagerie tent is pitched in front of the show tent proper, and contains a large number of cages of rare animals. There are lions and lionesses, llamas, hyenas, three varieties of leopards, Bengal tigers, wild boars, etc. An enormous giraffe, nineteen feet high, stuck his head through an opening in the top of the cage and contentedly chewed a wad of hay. There are monkeys and birds in profusion. A herd of elephants confined with chains about the legs grunted in unison. One of them, a female, was imported sixty-nine years ago, and is supposed to be one hundred and thirty years old. Antelopes, sacred cows, ant eaters, and all variety of beasts paced their cages and some of them allowed Mr. Lowlow to caress them. Others showed their teeth and growled menacingly.

The side show, as usual, drew a big crowd. Inside the tent the band played "Annie Rooney," while a man with the iron jaw chewed up glass tumblers and other appetising dishes. A pair of giants, a man and his wife, each seven feet tall, a tribe of Zulus, the ever present fat woman and living skeleton; all watched the Punch and Judy show, while a juggler pulled hoop skirts and pie plates out of a country man's hat.

All about the tents was life and action. Colored cooks prepared dinner, while the canvas men made things secure for the afternoon and evening performance. Loud voiced fakirs announced that they had fresh roasted California peanuts, candy, and the usual red circus lemonade. Soon it began to rain, and the howling of the animals together with the shouts of the men at work putting up tents, made a combination hard to beat.

This is the first time the show has visited Wisconsin in sixteen years. To-morrow they show in Whitewater.

This afternoon a large crowd took in the show and all pronounced it very good. To-night there will probably be another large attendance after which the stakes will be pulled and another curcus day, rainy as usual, will be over. The kids who carried water enough for thirty ponies and received in return for their service a pass to the show will have to wait a long time before they can undergo that pleasant task again.

Mr. John Lowlow is not only the press agent of the Robinson show, but is a general all-round man. He is also the clown of the circus ring, a calling he has followed for many years. He looks after the newspapers on arriving in town, and then manages the street parade. He then takes the press representatives in hand and shows them through the monster caravan. In the afternoon he is the superintendent of the ring performance, and the jester of the establishment. Many other details falls to his care, and he is well adapted for the position. A perfect gentleman in every sense, he is a pleasant man to meet. In his role of a clown he is a king and is in his glory.

NEW GAME FOR LADIES.

Golf Clubs Now All the Go in England—How the Game is Played.

Golf clubs for ladies are being formed in all parts of England, the principal club of London being called the Blackheath Ladies' Golf club, and having a course laid out on the heath for its accommodation by permission of the London county council. "The girl who can play golf," says an American in London, "will be just a shade more swagger, as they say in London, more fly, as we say in New York, this year than the girl who can play only tennis. It is an old Scottish game, and derives its name from the club (German, kolbe; Dutch, kolf) with which it is played. It is played on what are called links in Scotland, downs in England—tracts of sandy soil, covered with short grass and a more interesting game ensues if the ground be diversified with little billocks and irregularities, called, in the language of the play, hazards, the avoiding of which requires considerable skill. A series of small round holes about four inches in diameter and several inches in depth are cut in the turf at distances of from one to four or five hundred yards from each other in such a way as to form a circuit. The balls, weighing about two ounces, are made of gutta percha painted white, that they may be readily seen.

Each player has a set of clubs, numbering from six to ten, of different lengths and shapes to suit the distance to be driven and the position of the ball, and is accompanied by an attendant, who carries the clubs. The object of the game is to drive the ball from the first hole into each successive hole back to the start with as few strokes as possible. It requires long practice really to excel at the game, but the immediate advantage of playing, aside from the attendant enjoyment, is that besides the muscular exercise required by actual play there is a mixture of walking which particularly suits those of sedentary habits—walking on a breezy common with a motive that leaves no time for thought of weariness. Of course there is a costume—there is always in a ladies' club—and it goes without saying that it is short in the skirt, loose in the waist, light in weight, and as picturesque as woman's artistic fancy can model it."

THE COUNTY TEACHERS.

The Semi-Annual Meeting of the Rock County Teachers' Association.

The semi-annual meeting of the Rock County Teachers' Association will convene in the High school building this city to-morrow morning, and will continue through Saturday. It is expected that every teacher in the county will be present during the session. These meetings are open to the public. On Friday evening the meeting will be held in the circuit court room in the court house. The public is particularly invited to attend this meeting. Prof. T. B. Pray, of the Whitewater Normal School, and Prof. W. D. Parker, will be present at the meeting on Friday evening, and may be expected to speak on some of the important questions. Other noted educators of the state have been invited, and are expected to attend. Good music will be in attendance at all the sessions.

The following is the programme as far as completed:

Physiology—Jessie Snyder, Clinton; R. J. Lynn, Center.

AN INDUSTRIAL PARADE.

Grand Street Display of the McCormick Harvesting Machines.

Following closely in the wake of the grand street parade of the John Robinson's circus and menagerie this morning, was another street display, which for a time attracted quite as much attention, and undoubtedly much more interest. This was the grand parade and display of the McCormick Binders. These machines are handled by the Janesville Machine Company, and it was reserved to make the grand display of some of the spring sales to-day that Rock county farmers might see something of interest to them while in the city to see the circus.

Among the many McCormick binders sold by the Janesville Machine company, twenty-one were to be delivered to farmers in this vicinity to-day, and by an arrangement the machines were to be so delivered that the farmers, after loading their machines, would form a procession and drive through the principal streets of the city. Everything worked well up to the time of starting the procession The machines had very nearly all been loaded, when the indications of a storm broke forth. Notwithstanding this unfavorable circumstance the procession started down West Milwaukee street. The streets were full of people, and the unique procession attracted universal attention, not only of store-keepers, business and professional men, but of farmers and townspeople as well. On down the street they came until the leading wagon of the industrial parade reach the bridge. Then there came a cloud burst, a heavy dew-rain—a deluge a general stampede of horses' wagons and drivers. The parade was at an end.

Notwithstanding this unlooked for interference, the parade was a splendid one, showing so many new machines o the same manufacture being taken by Rock county farmers in one day. It was an evidence that all the farmers are not discouraged at the late season or by tariff legislation. Perhaps no other firm in the county will be able to make as fine a showing of harvesting machines as did the Janesville Machine Company to-day, no matter how fine the weather, if they do, the Gazette will have a representative on the ground to witness the display.

Funeral of James Van Etta.

The funeral of the late James Van Etta was held from his late residence at two o'clock this afternoon, the Rev James Slidell, rector of Trinity Church officating. All the afternoon people have thronged the house to look for the last time upon the well known face before the remains were taken to the last resting place at Oak Hill cemetery. The flowers were particularly handsome and the casket one of the most beautiful ever seen in the city. It was covered with the finest silk plush that money could buy, and the trimmings were of gold A heavy gold plate bore the inscription "James Van Etta." It was a handsome casket, the rich gold contrasting nicely with the sombre black, with which the casket was covered.

Beautiful and appropriate song service was rendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. J. W. St. John, Mrs. C. B. Conrad, Mr. C. N. Vankirk and Mr. C. L. Clark.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Geo. C McLean, Ensign H. Bennett, Dr. C. L. Martin, Dr. J. B. Whiting, W. P. Bentley and J. M. Bostwick. Quite a number of members of the Masonic Lodge attended and each wore a badge of mourning. At the close of the services the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery followed by a long line of carriages.

BELOIT SUCKERS.

A Profitable Field for the Sharpers in the Wake of a Circus.

The circus sharpers yesterday used the state line to catch Beloit suckers, as the following dispatch to the Milwaukee Sentinel indicates:

BELOIT, May 21.—Robinson's show opened to-day on the Illinois side of the city, where the police could not interfere with the skin games which were running in great numbers, and consequently the sharks made great hauls, securing hundreds of dollars from the Beloit suckers.

The spring wraps that we offer at $2.99 and $3.88 cannot fail to interest you. At our annex. J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

A SPECIAL MEETING

Of the Business Men's Association Called for Friday Evening

A special meeting of the Business Men's Association will be held at the rooms of the association on Friday evening, May 23d, for the purpose of discussing the contemplated removal of the Janesville Machine Co. plant from the city. All persons not members of the Association who are interested in the welfare of the city are invited to be present.
C. S. JACKMAN,
President.

CONQUERING A TRIBE.

How Stanley Used the Terrible Rope to Break the Sullen African Spirit.

Stanley can be severe, though in his whole career he has only executed four of his own followers, all in this last expedition. Early in this expedition two Zanzibaris were tried and convicted for selling rifles and ammunition to the slave-dealing enemy. This in such an expedition, where everything depends on the superiority of its arms, is a capital offense of the gravest nature, and the men were condemned to death. The sequel is told as follows in Mr. Stanley's own words:

Early one morning one of the two was brought on to the parade; all the men stood round in a crowd. I asked him if he had anything to say; he was mute: I looked at the crowd they were mute too.

One word from the man himself or from any of the onlookers, one appeal for mercy that would have enabled him to address the crowd, and I would have saved that man's life. It was the effect I wanted, not his life.

Not a word was said. I gave the signal, and he swung coram populo. Still I watched the crowd. There was no sign—only dull insensibility.

I lay awake thinking all night; the other man was to be hanged at 8. At dawn I sent for the chief sheikh of the Zanzibaris. He came. I said, "What is this thing you have done to me? You promised me help and you do nothing. Do you want me to kill these men? I don't do the killing willingly! Answer!"

The sheikh replied that he would be glad if my excellency could see the way to spare the remaining man.

Then I told him to get the other sheikhs to say nothing to the people, but when I gave the signal let them ask for his life, but ask it really as if they meant it.

At 8 o'clock the poor wretch had the rope around his neck. I asked if he had anything to say. Silence.

I raised my hand to give the sign; the sheikhs rushed forward, knelt at my feet and implored mearcy. Immediately every man joined in, too. I said: "Good; for your sakes I give his life."

Then there was a shout and they all rushed forward; they fell at my feet, they screamed blessings, they swore they would follow me to the world's end.

Stanley avoids nobody, sees everybody who cares to call, and answers with precision most questions and declines answering others. The ordinary visitor goes away with the imyression that he has been courteously, though not cordially, received by a man of action and not of words.

Something New.

It seems to be the general policy of savages to conceal all feelings of curiosity or surprise. From what motive this line of action is adopted it is not easy to discover. It seems to be almost a matter of instinct. The following is told of Jack, an Andaman captive, who was taken to Calcutta thirty years ago.

He was out in the carriage one day, when a gentleman with whom we were acquainted followed us on horseback, riding at the side of the carriage. As Jack had never seen any one on horseback before, he stared in undisguised astonishment, his countenance expressing the profoundest astonishment at what he evidently regarded as some remarkable monster with two heads and six legs.

When the gentleman, on reaching Captain Hill's house, descended from his seat, Jack's amazement—hitherto kept somewhat in restraint—transcended all bounds He jumped out of the carriage, and in a state of irrepressible excitement approached the double monster, and robbed his hand along the horse's back, with the view, apparently, of discovering the place at which the spontaneous disruption had taken place. While he was engaged in this examination the horse happened to yawn, an operation which greatly amused Jack, and sent him off in an unrestrainable burst of laughter.

DIRECTORS' MEETING.

The directors of the Janesville Building, Loan & Savings Association will meet Friday evening, May 23d, at Silas Hayner's office, in the Jackman block. Those desiring to borrow money will make a note of it, as the cash on hand will be loaned.

THE WEATHER.

For Wisconsin—Slightly Warmer Weather—Variable Winds and Light Rains.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 52 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind—Good shower of rain between 11 and 12 o'clock. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 60 degrees above zero. Cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 40 and 59 degrees above zero.

MILTON JUNCTION.

The Trade Carnival and Those Represented—Memorial Day—News and Personal Items.

The merchants' carnival which was given here last week by the ladies of the Junction, was a grand affair, and represented the business interests of Milton Junction on a large scale. On Wednesday evening the crowd was so great that fully one hundred could not enter the hall, and quite a number of the Junction people vacated their seats to accommodate those from a distance. After being informed that it would be repeated Thursday evening, at eight o'clock the grand march was begun with forty-six ladies in appropriate costume, in line, each carrying a beautiful banner, which was followed by squad drill, some very complicated maneuvers being gone through with. The ladies then filed upon the stage. A poem written by Miss O. E. Dorward, descriptive of the business of the different representations, was read by Miss Phoebe Dorward, when the lady who represented the business spoken of responded by coming forward on the stage with their banners. Interspersed with the reading of the poem were solos given by Miss Alice Dow, Miss Nellie Burdick, Prof. A. G. Sears, Frank L. Burdick; and an instrument duet by Frank L Burdick and Bert Button. The Junction Cornet Band rendered some fine music. Miss Laura Dow was the leader of the carnival, and is deserving of much praise for the the manner in which she drilled her company. The following are the names of the business men represented and the lady who represented them: F. A. Bunnell, candies, by Myrta E. Frink; Crandall Bros, photographers, by Allie Button; The high school, by Mrs. E. E. Cole; Clarke Bros. stock buyers, by Phoebe Dorward, Calvin Hull, hardware, by Mrs. C. Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

DR. COFFEE.

He Brings Good Tidings to the Sick and Suffering.

He Has Decided Not to Open a Permanent Office in Chicago Until Fall.

At the Solicitation of Hundreds of Sufferers He Has Agreed to Stay at Janesville All the Time Until September 1st.

Carry the News to Your Neighbor, to Your Friends and Relations and Come and See the Wonderful Work He is Doing.

Hundreds Cured that Were Considered Incurable. He Will be at the Windsor Hotel.

He announces to the people of Janesville and county that at the meeting of the board of directors of the Sanitarium Co., at Chicago, last Saturday, the committee reported the purchase of grounds on Third avenue to build on above 59th street. They also decided not to open separate offices from the Sanitarium, and Dr. Coffee has decided on account of his family having to be confined to the city during the summer and drink the unhealthy water which Chicago has this spring, will locate at Janesville for the summer; he will therefore bring all his instruments and apparatus, electric batteries of every form, compress air chambers, hot air apparatus (Sweigert's) massage apparatus operating chairs and in fact every instrument necessary for the treatment of all chronic medical and surgical diseases and deformities. He will be here every day in the month except three. He will be at the Windsor hotel, Janesville, every day this month except May 26th, 27th and 28th.

There are many patients that have applied to us for treatment for various chronic troubles that we could not take their cases, as we did not think we could se them but once a month when it would require treatment two or three time a week, to treat them successfully, especially cases of deafness, and those delicate diseases of the ear and eye and nose. Cases of paralysis coming from spinal diseases or chronic rheumatism, stiff joints, etc., club feet and curvature of the spine, all require special attention.

If you are suffering with any chronic disease or deformity come and see us. If you are incurable we will tell you plainly, as I will under no circumstance take an incurable case.

Have you got a cataract, a ptergum (or film over your eye?) We remove them in two minutes.

Have you a fistula or piles, itching or bleeding? We guarantee every case, no matter how bad, no knife, no interference from business.

Catarrh with noises in the ear can always be cured.

Deafness, we can cure about two thirds of the cases. Can tell on examination in five minutes if you are curable. We have the little electric lights for making these examinations. Bronchitis, larygnitis or consumption we treat with medicated air or compound oxygen; and for consumption we have Sweigert hot air treatment; come and see about this: the only scientific methods now in use. We cure hundreds that are given up.

Heart disease cured by the newest and latest remedies.

Stomach and liver diseases are all curable when taken in time. Kidney diseases are more complicated than diseases of any other organ, and require a close analysis of urine in most cases. The mistakes in diagnosis is cause of most failures to get well. If you are in doubt on this point about your disease, or its extent, come to me and bring two samples of urine; we will inform you positively of your condition. Bladder and sexual diseases and weaknesses are so closely allied that a clear diagnosis is necessary to cure them, most all cases can be cured.

Consumption, diarrhoea or all bowel troubles are easily cured with the proper medicine and hygiene. Cancers and tumors we remove without a knife; we guarantee every case. If you suffer, come or write to us, we will refer you to cases cured in all stages.

Skin diseases in all its forms cured positively. Come and see our charts on skin diseases. Facial blemishes, moths, blotches, pimples, liver spots, etc,, cured permanently. Superfluous hair removed by electricity.

If your bust is small; we have appliances and remedies that will develop a large full breast in three months, not harmful. My wife attends to this. See her about it.

If you are sick and need our advice, do not stay away, because you have not got the money. Come and tell us your circumstances, and will give you time. All I wish to know is that you are responsible.

Braces, trusses and deformity apparatus furnished.

Chronic female diseases cured generally without exposure. Stricture of the unthria cured in one treatment, no cutting or stopping work.

Consultation free until June 1st, after that it will be $1 for general consultation and prescription when nothing more is needed.

Two dollars for chemical analysis of urine and opinion. $3.00 chemical and microscopical analysis of urine in doubtful cases of Bright's disease and in sterility.

Remember if you need our advice, come early and give yourself plenty of time to be cured while I am here.

Many cases cured at one treatment.

Board can be secured in town from three to six dollars a week. I have many cases here from a distance.

Free bus from depot to hotel and to my office.

Beecham's Pills cure Sick-Headache.
